* Document for sale by Superintendent of Documents.

† Distribution by office issuing document, free if unaccompanied by a price.

‡ Document not obtainable.

Explanation

Words and figures inclosed in brackets [ ] are given for information, but do not appear on the title-pages of the publications catalogued. When size is not given, octavo is to be understood. Size of maps is measured from outer edge of border, excluding margin. The dates, including day, month, and year, given with Senate and House documents and reports, are the dates on which they were ordered to be printed. Usually the printing promptly follows the ordering, but various causes sometimes make delays. When Congress and session are not given with the numbers of Senate and House documents and reports, 62d Congress, 3d session, is to be understood.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Superintendent of Documents is authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not otherwise provided for.

Documents can not be supplied by this Office free to individuals, nor can they be forwarded in advance of payment.

Documents entered in this catalogue that are for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., are indicated by a star (*) preceding the price named. A dagger (†) indicates that application should be made to the Department, Bureau, or Division issuing the document, a double dagger (§) indicates that the document is not obtainable, and whenever additional information concerning the method of procuring a document seems necessary it will be found under the name of the Bureau. The Senate and House documents and reports are issued in limited editions and, unless otherwise indicated, may be obtained only through Members of Congress.

In ordering a publication from the Superintendent of Documents give the name of the issuing Department, Bureau, or Division, and title. If publication is numbered give number also. Do not order by Library of Congress card number.

The accumulation of publications in this Office amounts to over a million, of which several hundred thousand are assorted, forming the sales stock. Many rare books are included, but under the law all must be sold "at cost," regardless of their age or scarcity.

In ordering, it should be borne in mind that many of the books have been in stock some time and are apt to be shop-worn. In filling orders, however, the best copy available is sent.

No general price-list of public documents is available, but lists on special subjects will be furnished on application.

MONTHLY CATALOGUE DISTRIBUTION

The Monthly catalogue is sent to each Senator, Representative, Delegate, and officer in Congress, to designated depositories and State and Territorial libraries, to substantially all Government authors, and to as many school, college, and public libraries as the limited edition will supply.

Subscription price to individuals, $1.10 a year, including indices. Back numbers can not be supplied. Please notify the Superintendent of Documents of any change in address.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS CARDS

Numbers to be used in ordering the L. C. catalogue cards will be found at the end of the titles of the more important monographic documents. The figure following the card number (separated from it by a slanting line) indicates the number of cards required for entries suggested (title entry not included) on the cards. The price of the cards is 2c. for the first card and  $\frac{1}{10}$ c. for each additional card for the same title ordered at the same time. Remittances should be made to the Librarian of Congress. Cards can not be furnished by the Superintendent of Documents.

CUMULATIVE INDEX

Beginning with July, 1912, the Index to the Monthly catalogue will be issued semiannually instead of quarterly, as heretofore, and will cumulate for the twelve months ending June, 1913. That is, the December number is an Index to the Monthly catalogue for July to December, 1912, and the June number will be the Index for the fiscal year 1913. Persons desiring to bind the catalogue at the end of the year should be careful to retain the numbers received monthly, as duplicate numbers can not be supplied.

HOW TO REMIT

Remittances for the documents marked with a star (*) should be made to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., by postal money order, express order, or New York draft. Currency may be sent at sender's risk.

Postage stamps, foreign money, defaced or smooth coins will positively not be accepted.

To facilitate the payment of the cost of documents, the Superintendent of Documents will hereafter accept coupons issued by him instead of cash. Coupons of the value of 5 cents each are sold in sets of 20 for $1.00. Address order to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office.

No charge is made for postage on documents forwarded to points in United States, Guam, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, or to Canada, Cuba, or Mexico. To other countries the regular rate of postage is charged, and remittances must cover such postage.

NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

The publication of the set of tables showing the wholesale prices of lumber, formerly issued quarterly by the Forest Service, has been discontinued.

The message of the President, Jan. 8, 1913, transmitting reports of the Commission on Economy and Efficiency, is accompanied by a Brief memorandum descriptive of the work of the Commission. The two are printed together as Circular 31 of the Commission. Both documents have interesting points. The President cites the fact, as illustrating the relative importance of Government service outside of Washington, that clerk hire in the New York Post Office alone costs more than in the War, Navy, State, Justice, and Commerce and Labor Departments combined. He recommends that the Economy and Efficiency Commission be continued, the President to spend in its maintenance as much as he may find to be necessary during the next two years, the only condition to be that he render an account. The Commission's memorandum gives surprising statements concerning the Adjutant General's Office, which is the largest office in which a study of details has been made. One such statement is that 76 good office rooms in the State, War, and Navy building have been used for the storing of old and little used records, while clerks are quartered in six different buildings scattered throughout the city. Some of these quarters are exceedingly unfit and unsanitary.

The American ephemeris for 1915 ($1.00), the Smithsonian report for 1911 ($1.00), and Mineral resources, 1911, part 2, Nonmetals ($1.10), are among the standard issues of the month.

The United States Geological Survey has in press a fully illustrated bulletin (no. 533) entitled Geology of the Nome and Grand Central quadrangles, Alaska. The work will have 12 plates, 5 chromolithographs, 11 halftones, 8 zinc etchings, 6 electrotypes, and 13 text figures, an array of illustrations sufficient to give a good insight into the rich region under consideration. The author of this important bulletin is Fred H. Moffitt.

The issue of the first American sheet of the international map of the world, scale 1 to the million, was recorded in the Monthly catalogue for November, 1912. The United States Geological Survey has since received information of the issue, by other nations which are coöperating, of the following named sheets:

North O-30, Scotland, The Highlands.
North O-29, The Hebrides (Europe).
North K-35, Istambul (Constantinople).
South H-34, Kenhardt (Africa).

The American sheets are sold by the Geological Survey at 40 cents each, and the foreign sheets by Edward Stanford, 12-14 Long Acre, W. C., London, England, at 2 shillings plus postage.

Bulletin 104, Labor Bureau, is of great importance; in fact, it amounts to an exposure and severe criticism of an important American industry, the manufacture of pottery, glazed tiles, and porcelain sanitary wares. The charge brought against the conduct of this industry is extreme neglect of sanitary precautions, resulting in numerous cases of lead poisoning. The investigations were made by Dr. Alice Hamilton, who visited 68 establishments, located in 9 States and employing over 2,100 men and nearly 400 women. Cases of lead poisoning among them amounted to about one in every dozen men and one in every 7 women, for the single year 1911. Dr. Hamilton also visited potteries and tile works in Austria, Germany, and Great Britain, finding in those countries much better hygienic conditions than in the United States. This should not remain always the case. Bulletin 104 is also no. 1 of the Industrial accidents and hygiene series; also House document 920, 62d Congress, 2d session. Price, 10 cents.

Owing to the demands upon the printing appropriation of the Interstate Commerce Commission, it is impracticable to continue to furnish free copies of its quarterly Accident bulletins, therefore the mailing list for this publication has been discontinued. The Accident bulletin may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, at 5 cents a copy or 20 cents a year.

Mr. Sonneck, chief of the Music Division, Library of Congress, has in contemplation a revised edition of his very successful and popular monograph on the most famous American patriotic songs, published in 1909, and sold by the Superintendent of Documents at 85 cents. It is proposed to issue the revised edition in 1914, the centennial year of the Star-Spangled Banner.

Dr. Barton Warren Evermann is the author of Fisheries Bureau document 766, Alaska fisheries and fur industries in 1911, this being the latest annual report on a subject of present economic and political interest. In paper covers, 10 cents. This was listed in the Monthly catalogue for December, 1912, page 270.

Vol. 17, 2d series, Index-catalogue of the library of the Surgeon General's Office, U. S. A., is out of press and for sale by the Superintendent of Documents at $2.00. The new volume brings the titles (which are given in alphabetical order) up to the early part of the T's, indicating that the completed series will fill 19 or 20 volumes. The first series was in 16 volumes, vol. 1 having been published in 1881 and vol. 16 in 1895. That series included substantially the whole body of known and accessible medical literature up to the date of publication. The fact that the second series, though covering comparatively a very brief period, is so much more voluminous, shows that in the present the output of medical literature is much greater than in the past. This is, indeed, a matter of common knowledge, and true as to all branches of literary production.

Field operations of the Bureau of Soils, 1910, is the largest thus far in the series, of which this is the 12th number. In its 1772 pages it gives the text of 39 surveys located in 18 States. This text is illustrated by 29 plates. The big volume is accompanied by a case containing 43 large scale maps of the counties surveyed. It is published by the Agriculture Department in a cloth-bound edition, sold by the Superintendent of Documents at $4.75 for the text volume and the portfolio of maps. There is also a Congressional edition, in paper covers, designated as House document 1444, 61st Congress, 3d session.

Index to the stratigraphy of North America, by Bailey Willis, the entry for which appears on page 285 of the December Monthly catalogue, is published by the United States Geological Survey as no. 71 in its series of Professional papers. It will no doubt take its place at once as a standard textbook. The text and accompanying portfolio of maps are sold by the Superintendent of Documents at $2.00 in paper.

Public health bulletin 56, price 25 cents, has this title: Digest of the laws and regulations in force in the United States relating to the possession, use, sale, and manufacture of poisons and habit-forming drugs. It is a compilation of 278 pages which no health authorities should be without. This is listed in the Monthly catalogue for December, 1912, page 306.

Nautical almanac for 1915 is now on sale. Price, 30 cents.

Plant Industry Bureau Bulletin 264, The purpling chromogen of a Hawaiian Dioscorea, can be supplied by the Superintendent of Documents for 10 cents.

The blue-covered second edition of the Official Congressional directory for the 3rd session of the 62d Congress has been issued. Price, 60 cents.

There is a revised edition of Mines Bureau Bulletin 15, Investigation of explosives used in coal mines. Price, 25 cents.

Circular 30 of the President's Economy and Efficiency Commission is a review of the Commission's organization and activities.

Report 98, Agriculture Department, is a timely statistical essay of 391 pages entitled Systems of marketing farm products and demand for such products at trade centers. Price, 25 cents.

The number of technical publications, involving much research and promising useful results, issued from the various scientific bureaus of the Government during the month of January, was unusually large, and, so far as may be judged from the mere reading of their titles, unusually valuable. Especially is this true of the issues from the various bureaus of the Agriculture Department. Such pamphlets are far too numerous and too technical for notice here, but they are all fully and accurately catalogued in the body of this catalogue under the headings of the Departments and bureaus from which they have proceeded.

An addition to the series of interesting pamphlets to which collectively has been given the popular name of Uncle Sam's Cookbook is one which does not come from any bureau of the Agriculture Department, but from the Government Hospital for the Insane, and has been published primarily for the use of the cooking class of the Nurses' Training School of that great institution. The title is Lessons in cooking, theoretical and practical, for the sick and convalescent. The Superintendent of Documents can supply copies at 5 cents.

The latest device of the Animal Industry Bureau to arouse interest and promote profit in a branch of farm production is the organization of girls' poultry clubs. The object is to give a better knowledge of the value and importance of the poultry industry and the marketing of a first-class uniform product; to teach better methods of caring for the poultry and eggs, and to show how increased revenue may be gained. Circular 208 tells all about it. Price, 5 cents.

It was estimated that a thousand million wild pigeons were killed at the pigeon roost in Michigan in the year 1878. In 1900, the beautiful bird was found to be extinct. But one living specimen is now known. It is in the Cincinnati Zoo. The Smithsonian Report for 1911 publishes two papers concerning this pigeon—known as the passenger pigeon—one written by Kalm in 1759 and the other by Audubon in 1831. They give wonderful accounts of the vast numbers of the birds, whose flocks darkened the sun in those years and in all the years prior to the present century. These papers are accompanied by a colored plate of a pair of the pigeons.

There is a new print of the Patent laws, edition of Dec. 1, 1912, with index. 5 cents.

The Rules of practice for the courts of equity of the United States, promulgated by the Supreme Court of the United States, Nov. 4, 1912, have been reprinted, with an index, as Senate document 972, 62d Congress, 3d session. Price, 5 cents. This publication was entered on page 303 of the Monthly catalogue for December, 1912.

Agriculture Department Circular 42 is The seed importation act of Aug. 24, 1912, with rules and regulations for its enforcement. The act prohibits the importation of adulterated grains and seeds unfit for seeding purposes. Price, 5 cents.

Public health bulletin 54 is even more necessary for all local and general health boards than no. 56 in the same series. The title of no. 54 is: Organization, powers, and duties of health authorities, an analysis of the laws and regulations relating thereto in force in the United States. Price, 25 cents.

Radio is the appropriate name of a 4th class post office lately established in connection with the Navy Department's mammoth radio-telegraph station on Fort Myer heights, Virginia. Radio, Va., is the correct postal address of the Superintendent of the Radio Service and his small army of assistants.

A very noteworthy contribution to the great and rapidly growing body of American agricultural literature is Farmers' bulletin 519, published by the Plant Industry Bureau. An example of intensive farming in the cotton belt. The intensive farmer who has produced results before unattained and supposed to be unattainable is Sam McCall, an ex-slave now 75 years old, who has increased his production of cotton from a third of a bale to the acre to over three bales, which is ten times the average production throughout the cotton-growing States. He is an ambitious man, and is now striving to attain the apparently impossible yield of nine bales to the acre. He has already succeeded in producing a 506-pound bale on a measured eighth of an acre. The story of how he has done all this is well worth the reading, by every cotton grower, in a 5-cent bulletin.

An interesting part of the Report of the commissioner of corporations on transportation by water in the United States is Part 4, Control of water carriers by railroads and by shipping consolidations, just out of press as this is written.

Two annual directories for which there is always considerable inquiry are just out in new issues. One is Educational directory, 1912, published as Bulletin 31, series of 1912, Education Bureau. The other is List of agricultural fairs and exhibitions in the United States, published as Bulletin 102, Statistics Bureau, Agriculture Department. 10 cents each.

General Land Office Circular 187 is a new edition of the United States mining laws and regulations thereunder; also, addenda containing later acts and regulations. Price, 10 cents.

The quarto pamphlet of 328 pages, entitled Documents upon the measurement of vessels and the operation of canals, listed in this number of the Monthly catalogue, under the heading "Isthmian Canal Commission," is printed for official use only and can not be supplied to the public in its present form. Later on it will form part of a larger work, by Professor Emory R. Johnson, to be called The measurement of vessels for the Panama Canal. This will be published by the Isthmian Canal Commission and will also be sold by the Superintendent of Documents.

TELEPHONES BROUGHT UNDER SUPERVISION

The Interstate Commerce Commission has published the first issue—effective Jan. 1, 1913—of Uniform system of accounts for telephone companies. Price, 10 cents.

JOURNALS OF CONTINENTAL CONGRESS

Vol. 20 in the Library of Congress edition of the Journals of the Continental Congress is out of press. The period covered is April 24–July 22, 1781. This and the 19 preceding volumes of this very notable edition are sold by the Superintendent of Documents at $1.00 each.

PATENT OFFICE CONDITIONS

House document 1110, 62d Congress, 3d session, is the Report of the investigation of the United States Patent Office made by the President's Commission on Economy and Efficiency, Dec. 1912. It is a substantial volume of 624 pages, containing much material of technical rather than popular interest. There are, however, some matters in it which should not only interest but incense every citizen. These relate to the lack of ventilation and sanitation. The accommodations have been entirely outgrown by the increased business of the office. Light and air and space are alarmingly insufficient, dirt superabundant. The report says: "In the public search room the records and other furnishings are so dirty that it is impossible for the attorneys to work and maintain clean clothes or linen. The files of the sale copies of patents in the galleries are so dirty that it is impossible for the boys to pull the copies in their ordinary clothes. This forces them to use overalls in winter, while in summer they work in bathing suits or athletic clothes. After working in these files all day the boys are covered with dirt so that they have the appearance of having worked as stokers. The galleries are so dirty that the health of the boys working therein is impaired. They are forced to take sick leave on account of throat trouble and eye trouble resulting from the breathing of this polluted air." Ordinary sanitary accommodations are said to be entirely inadequate.

AN EPOCHAL DATE

One hundred years of peace is the title of a graphic monograph written for the Outlook by Senator Lodge and reprinted by the Government as House document 1268 of the 62d Congress. The hundred peaceful years concerning which the Senator has written so brilliantly are the years of the relations between the United States and Great Britain following the conclusion of the Treaty of Ghent, Dec. 24, 1814, by which the War of 1812 was brought to a close. Though the century of peaceful relations with our English cousins is not yet quite ended, its ending is so near that the time is ripe for the consideration of plans for the celebration and commemoration of what should be considered an epochal date in our national history. There is now no apparent reason why the date Dec. 24, 1914, should not mark the beginning of a second century of peace as well as the ending of the first century. Still, there is no telling. We are a warlike people. Our longest interval of general peace has been that between the ending of the War between the States and the beginning of the War with Spain, 33 years, and even that was broken by several wars with American Indians.

The hundred years of military peace with Great Britain have not been altogether years of brotherly love. We have had many diplomatic clashes, of which Senator Lodge sketches the history in vivid outline. The history of these episodes can be better written now than at the time of their occurrence, because facts now known were then concealed through diplomatic expediency. Document 1268 is in fact mostly a diplomatic history, and should be welcome to those who wish to brush up their knowledge of anxious periods in the national annals, and still more so to those who are now first seeking such knowledge. American diplomacy does not suffer by comparison with that of the older country. Only by diplomatic skill and wisdom was war averted on more than one occasion during the hundred years of peace.

Though the War of 1812 was officially closed Dec. 24, 1814, its greatest battle, that of New Orleans, was not fought till Jan. 8, 1815, when the British army, under Gen. Pakenham, was defeated with great slaughter by Andrew Jackson's army of backwoodsmen.

In these days of communication by lightning it is almost unthinkable that during all the centuries up to the 19th, and well along into that one, the most rapid means of communication available, even to the rulers of nations, were sailing vessels and horses. Jackson and Pakenham fought because they did not know that they had been officially changed from enemies to friends 15 days before. And after the battle the mounted courier who was dispatched to Washington with the news was three weeks on the road.

One hundred years of peace between the two leading nations of the world have seen more wonderful changes and greater material progress than all the centuries before. The price of this pamphlet is 5 cents.

BEGINNING OF A SERIES

The Children's Bureau, Commerce and Labor Department, Julia C. Lathrop, chief, has issued its no. 1, and it is not a "bulletin." Chief Lathrop has wisely chosen to name her series of publications monographs.

The name and rank of the official who first used the word "bulletin" as title for a series of Government publications is now lost in obscurity. The surprising thing is that his lead has been so generally followed. Whatever the character of the first United States Government bulletin may have been, that title is now given to publications which are usually popular treatises on scientific subjects. Such publications do not appropriately fall under that title. Bulletin is supposed to be a diminutive for the title "bull" given to papal edicts, and its proper use is for brief and important news dispatches, such as are sent by commanders from battlefields or by medical authorities from the bedside of sick kings or celebrities, or for official records of the proceedings of learned societies. It has been the subject of some speculation among those who are curious in literary matters how or when the word "bulletin" came to be adopted for the designation of official treatises on husbandry, forestry, geology, chemistry, and so on. No doubt the origin of the unfitting title might be discovered if the results were likely to be worth the time and trouble, for the custom is not very ancient. Be that as it may, it cannot be questioned that Chief Lathrop has chosen wisely in taking the title Monograph in preference to Bulletin.

Her Monograph no. 1 has for title: Birth registration, an aid in protecting the lives and rights of children, necessity for extending the registration area. It has for Appendix the draft of a "Model law" proposed for passage by State legislatures to provide for the registration of all births and deaths in the States by which the law may be adopted. Price, 5 cents.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL

Senate document 965, 62d Congress, 3d session, is the Lincoln Memorial Commission Report, printed in quarto form, with unusual largeness of type and excellence of paper, and illustrated with views of the proposed memorial structure on the bank of the Potomac west of the Washington Monument.

The text includes, besides the formal report of the Commission, of which President Taft is chairman, the report of the Fine Arts Commission, the report on the memorial by Mr. Henry Bacon, the architect who designed it, and the report of Mr. John Russell Pope, architect, on the general plan of the memorial, these incidental reports being printed as Appendixes A-G.

The document is in itself a memorial and should be cherished by the friends of the Potomac plan.

FINE ARTS COMMISSION

The Report of the Commission of Fine Arts for the fiscal year 1912 is published as Senate document 960, 62d Congress, 3d session. Price, 25 cents.

The members of this Commission, appointed by the President, June 15, 1910, pursuant to the act of Congress of May 17 of the same year, were: Daniel H. Burnham of Illinois, Frederick Law Olmsted of Massachusetts, Thomas Hastings of New York, Daniel Chester French of Massachusetts, Francis D. Millet of New York and Washington, Cass Gilbert of New York, Charles Moore of Michigan. Mr. Burnham and Mr. Millet are now dead. In succession to Mr. Millet the President appointed Edwin H. Blashfield of New York and in succession to Mr. Burnham as a member he appointed Peirce Anderson of Illinois, while Daniel C. French was named to succeed Mr. Burnham as chairman.

The Commission's 1912 Report is handsomely printed and illustrated, as becomes a fine arts report, and demonstrates, among other things, the fact that the Commission has had an active year. The number of projected public buildings and national memorials which it has critically considered and reported upon is large and the aggregate of the authorized and prospective outlay upon them is considerable even for the richest country in the world. Evidently this country has entered upon an era of liberal expenditures for these purposes, and expert counsel is essential to prevent the squandering of great sums in the creation of monstrosities, of which we have already an over supply. The Fine Arts Commission was not created a day too soon. Its members patriotically give their expert services without pay, except the public gratitude, which should be given to them freely.

The various projects which are artistically illustrated, as well as critically considered, in the 1912 Report are: The Lincoln memorial (3 plates); armory for National Guard, District of Columbia; proposed group of buildings for the use of the Departments of State, Justice, and Commerce and Labor (4 plates); Bureau of Engraving and Printing; the Perry memorial (4 plates).

The last-named memorial is to be dedicated with imposing ceremonies on the centenary and the scene of the victorious battle of Lake Erie, Put-in-Bay, Sept. 10, 1913.

CHANGE IN A LONG SERIES

Beginning with the annual report for 1912, the Coast and Geodetic Survey will discontinue the practice, hitherto followed from its foundation, of printing special papers in the same volume with the report as appendixes. The annual report will henceforth be a much smaller volume and strictly of an administrative character.

Special papers of the sort heretofore published as appendixes to the annual report will hereafter be issued as independent unnumbered pamphlets, included, however, in one or another of the six series which will naturally result from the chief subjects which are considered by the Survey, these subjects being geodesy, hydrography, topography, terrestrial magnetism, chart construction, and a series to include various allied subjects. These pamphlet issues are virtually identical with the separate prints which have heretofore been made of the appendixes to the annual report. The only marked difference is that they will not hereafter be printed as appendixes.

The Coast Survey report was first printed in 1816. There was a long gap after 1817, but from 1834 the report has been regularly printed.

PERHAPS A BOON TO HUMANITY

Senate document 1018, 62d Congress, 3d session, in press at the time of writing, may prove to be a boon to suffering humanity. It is a message from the President, transmitting to Congress a report from Consul General Thackara, at Berlin, including the text of an address by Dr. Friedrich Friedmann of that city, descriptive of the new treatment for tuberculosis devised by him and practiced with great apparent success. Dr. Friedmann is shortly coming to America in consequence of the offer by a New York millionaire of a fee of $1,000,000 on condition that he shall cure 95 of 100 tubercular patients to be treated by him in New York hospitals.

NEW EDITION OF A STANDARD WORK

The new edition of the Biographical Congressional dictionary, 1789 to 1912, is awaited with eagerness by many prospective buyers. It has been announced to be available before the 4th of March.

Orders for the maps should be addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post Office Department, and money orders should be made payable to him.

Since February, 1908, the Topography Division has been preparing rural-delivery maps of counties in which rural-delivery is completely established. They are published in two forms, one giving simply the rural free delivery routes starting from a single given post office, sold at 5 cents each; the other, the rural free delivery routes in an entire county, sold at 20 cents each. A uniform scale of 1 inch to 1 mile is used. Editions are not issued, but sun-print copies are produced in response to special calls addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post Office Department. These maps should not be confused with the post route maps described in the preceding paragraph.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

NOTE.—In its latest price-list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution are: 1, Contributions to knowledge; 2, Miscellaneous collections; 3, Annual reports; 4, Special publications. No sets of these are for sale or distribution, as most of the volumes are out of print. The volumes of Contributions and of Miscellaneous collections are distributed only to public libraries and to learned institutions and societies in this country and abroad. A small edition of the papers in these two series is printed separately for sale or exchange. The Smithsonian reports are regularly distributed by the Institution to libraries throughout the world, and only a limited number of the volumes remains to supply demands from other sources. No general mailing-list of individuals is maintained. The reports can be had by purchase from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. The papers printed in the annual reports are published separately for free distribution. Publications should be ordered by the serial number. Remittances should be made payable to 'Smithsonian Institution.' An application from a library should state the number of volumes in the library and the date of establishment, and have the endorsement of a Member of Congress." The annual reports are the only Smithsonian publications that are regularly issued as public documents. All the others are paid for from the private funds of the Institution.
